

▼ NO! Wave topples Pat

◀ GO Race team set off

▼ YO-HO-HO Relieved pair after drama

▼ WHOA He zips over Shel

By VICTORIA MURPHY
A POWERBOAT racer is hurled out at 90mph by a freak wave.
 Belgian co-driver Patrick Huybrechts, 53, was catapulted 100ft into the path of other boats at the world championships off Malta.
 He was plucked unconscious from the race line after his pilot Shelley Jory-Leigh, 40, got help.
 UK champ Shelley said: "We are so lucky. We were absolutely gunning it."

Say
hello,
wave
goodbye!